Senator Awaits Showdown With Army Secretary

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (A)- Sen. Mc-Carthy (R-Wis.) broadened his attack today on the Army's handling of alleged Communists in its ranks as he waited for a face-to-face showdown with Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens. Stevens was to have appeared this morning before McCarthy's Senate Investigations subcommittee to reply to the Wisconsin's senator's charges that the Army was trying to "coddle and promote Communists." Charges Called Nonsense

But McCarthy late Monday ordered the hearing postponed until Thursday, partly to accommodate Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill.), who had a conflicting engagement, but also, McCarthy said, to give Stevens a chance to prepare fully for his testimony. Instead, McCarthy called a sofar unidentified witness to a public hearing 9:45 a. m., CST which he predicted would show "how the Army handled the case of another known Communist." McCarthy said the inquiry has nothing to do with his blasts at the Army for honorably discharging Maj. Irving Peress, now a practicing dentist in New York. McCarthy has called Peress a "fifth amendment Communist." Peress termed the McCarthy charges "sheer nonsense."

It was the Peress case that touched off a barrage of charges end.

BREAKING THE HABIT - With researchers counting noses, cigarets, and the incidence of lung cancer in the U.S. A., there has been a new rush for "cures" for the "smoking evil."

The chemical industry is reaping a harvest from the current cigaret controversy. reports Chemical Week, McGraw-Hill pub-

Compounds of one kind or another that will be a crutch for the will power of those who want to break the cigaret habit-or just curb it-are again much in demand. Individuals in the grip of Lady Nicotine are buying pounds and gallons of the cure.

Unfortunately they are finding they lack a sufficient dose of will power to make the break. Besides losing confidence in themselves they have spent a considerable sum for "medicines" to no benefit.

THE WINNERS-Saleswise the business of curbing the nictone habit is worth about $1 million annually. But the cigaret business runs into the billions of dollars, so you see who is gaining.

Only winners in the present controversy in the evil (or good effect, depending on the viewpoint) of smoking are those who have been frightened out of the cigaret nabit. Cancer of the lung is a horrid combination of words.

Fortunate are those thus frightened, because they need not take one of the stomach-upsetting compounds to help them forget cigarets. And some of the cigaret "cures" cause nausea so severe the victims wonder whether the cure is worse than the disease.

Some of these remedies are produced by reputable firms, while others are of the mail order variety.

LONG FIGHT-Smokers and their famlies have been trying to break the nicotine nabit for many years.

Oldest anti-cigaret product on the market today is one that was originally produced in the early 1890's, at which time the maker claimed it would "bring back the vigor of early youth" by eurbing the smoking habit which, the company asserted, was the cause of impotency in "nine cases out of ten." That product is now a sales leader in the anti-tobacco field. Other "cures" of later origin create nausea, dizziness, and act as an emetic if taken n excess. During this period of upset stomach the cigaret fiend is supposed to have no taste for tobacco.

FIGHT AGAINST EVIL-In an earlier day smoking-particularly of cigaretswas viewed with concern for the moral as well as physical well being of the victim. Preachers preached long sermons on the subject, linking nicotine and the devil. Smokers in the congregation squirmed un-happily in their pews. Gradually the men of the cloth began to view eigarets as an indivdual failing rather than an instrument of the devil. A few of the more courageous puffed an occasional cigaret right out in public. This old antipathy to tobacco as an indication of moral depravity still hangs heavy over the heads of certain professions. School teachers, for example, and youth leaders in general, either smoke only in

U-M Aims To Ease Vast Need For Social Workers

ANN ARBOR -- Trained social workers are filling only 16 per cent of the 75,000 positions available in the field, according to the dean of the University of Michigan School of Social Work.

Dean Fedele F. Fauri explains that in an effort to remedy this situation the U-M school currently is aiming at the preparation of students for "public service, especially in Michigan."

Of students who completed one or more years of the school's twoyear graduate training program, from June, 1951, to August, 1953, a total of 102 are now employed in Michigan public agencies, Dean Fauri says.

Of this number, 38 are with the State Department of Social Welfare, 14 are in administrative and supervisory positions, 17 are social workers in children's services and public assistance, and nine are in institutional positions, he asserts.

Dean Fauri explains that 18 former students now are with the State Department of Mental Health - three in administrative and supervisory positions and 15 in psychiatric and child guidance
